

Your Remote Workforce Toolkit

In times of great change, it's important to be responsive and nimble. Empower your workforce to work as productively (or more) while remote.

Sleep better knowing your remote staff is working effectively.

Employee productivity tracker:

Measure what matters most to your firm — especially now

GrowPath gives you clarity as a new structure for your workforce emerges. Monitor your staff regardless of their location to ensure they're working as diligently as they were before transitioning to remote work.

Compile key productivity indicators: Become a data-driven practice

GrowPath allows you to effectively manage your remote workforce and keep your firm thriving. Measure browser activity, page views, emails sent, calls made, and documents merged or attached for easy analysis.

Cloud-based oversight:

Thrive amidst pandemic challenges

Get intuitive insight into your firm. Compare individual employees or practice areas against their averages, other employees, or levels of pre-pandemic activity — all viewable in user-friendly bar graphs.

Other tracking tools only give you a broad overview. GrowPath gives you a complete and comprehensive look at what your remote staff is doing."

Document request hub: Centralize repetitive tasks

With our job-sharing tool, users can submit, view, and sort unfulfilled billing, medical, and other record requests from across the firm. By bundling your outstanding requests, you drastically simplify the process and save steps.

Remote print queue: Remote employees still need first-class mail

With GrowPath, print and mail requests can be sent from anywhere. On-site staff can then review, edit, print, and post the materials. This improves efficiency, and saves you from having to equip remote employees with home printers and stamps.

Streamlined communications: Client outreach made easy

Click-to-call, email, or text clients directly from the record. The firm number is displayed on outbound communications — even when you use your personal device. Responses are auto-added as notes — no copy/paste required.

Data visualization: Superior analytical tools

It's vital to capture your firm's data comprehensively to take your business to the next level. With GrowPath, you can see your data in informative, interactive, and exciting new ways.
